Your MicroDosing Training Plan

Week 3

Welcome back _____ ,
This is Week 3 of your personalized MicroDosing Training (MDT) system. Your body is adapting to the routine.
This week introduces slight progression – more control, more range, better coordination.
Small improvements will create a noticeable difference in how you feel.

Focus on movement quality.
Stay relaxed and controlled. Precision over speed.
You may notice you need less effort to feel the effect.

- Each session takes ~1-1.5 minute
- Follow your calendar prompts
- Skip anytime, continue later
- Sessions may feel slightly longer as you move with more control.

New MDT plan every week	1	2	3
4	5	6	7

General concept

It’s not static, it progresses weekly to make your habits stronger and movement smoother and athletic.

Week	Goal	What changes
1	Orientation	Learn movements, low intensity
2	Consolidation	New patterns, better execution
3	Progression	Tempo, range, coordination
4	Integration	More variety, overload feel

Safety & autonomy

Listen to your body at all times:

- Stop any movement that causes pain
- Adjust or replace exercises if needed
- Skipping sessions is normal, resume without guilt.
- Choose a safe and comfortable environment

This is not a workout test, enjoy it, MDT is about consistency, not perfection.

Your weekly plan

Your weekly SOS reset video protocol

This is not part of your daily MDT sessions.
Your daily plan builds consistency.
This is your on-demand reset.

Use it when your state drops:

- Your energy drops during the day
- You feel fatigue building
- You're pushing through low energy
- You need to reset instead of forcing it

"Reset your energy in 2 minutes"

*No warm-up needed.
Just press play and move.

What is next?

Next week, your movement becomes more fluid and intuitive. You'll rely less on thinking, and more on feeling and control.
This is where movement starts to feel automatic.
